

ENRICHMENT THROUGH LIFELONG LEARNING

The Osher Lifelong Learning Institute (OLLI) at UC San Diego has historically received financial support from The Bernard Osher Foundation, as well as private gifts from our members. Our Annual Giving Campaign's goal is to fortify the Osher program at UC San Diego for many years to come. We need your support and generosity to sustain the quality and longevity of our program. We are deeply grateful for your continued support.

UC San Diego

The Osher Lifelong Learning Institute (OLLI) at UC San Diego has served its members for almost 50 years, providing an opportunity for learning and community development to individuals 50 years of age and older. Our simple fundraising goal is to preserve and continue developing our community oriented program.

OUR CHALLENGE

Our current annual budget for expenditures is $370,000. The Bernard Osher Foundation granted our OLLI program a $1 million endowment in 2009 and the annual payout from that fund is approximately $70,000, which can fluctuate substantially depending on the performance of the market. The annual revenue we receive from membership dues is approximately $175,000 – which means that a substantial portion of our budget must be supported by other means. We cannot rely solely on revenue from these specific sources.

HOW YOU CAN HELP

We need your support. Your annual gifts and donations can ensure the longevity and sustainability of our excellent program, and guarantee its ability to expand, develop, and thrive even during financial uncertainties.

Your donation helps us with:

1. Keeping our dues low
2. Building our video library
3. Securing world-renowned speakers
4. Increasing our reserve funds
5. Expanding the community we serve
6. Improvements to our new facility (Winter or Spring 2024)
